1. About Uniting

Uniting Vic.Tas is the community services organisation of the Uniting Church. We've been supporting people and families for over 100 years. We work alongside people of all ages in local communities in Victoria and Tasmania. Our services reach to Albany-Wodonga in the north, Mallacoota in East Gippsland, the Wimmera region in the west, and across Tasmania.

We empower children, young people and families to learn and thrive. We're there for people experiencing homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction or mental illness. We support people with disability to live the life they choose. We assist older people to maintain their independence and enjoy life. We provide opportunities to access training and meaningful employment. We're proud to welcome and support asylum seekers to our community. We work to empower people with the information, skills and tools they need to live a healthy, happy life.

As an organisation, we work in solidarity with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as Australia's First Peoples and as the traditional owners and custodians of this land. We celebrate diversity and value the lived experience of people of every ethnicity, faith, age, disability, culture, language, gender identity, sex and sexual orientation. We welcome lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender diverse and non-binary, intersex and queer (LGBTIQ+) people at our services. We pledge to provide inclusive and non-discriminatory services.

Our purpose: To inspire people, enliven communities and confront injustice

Our values: We are imaginative, respectful, compassionate and bold

2. Position purpose

Family Services works with vulnerable children, young people and their families who are being impacted upon by disadvantage including poverty, trauma, substance abuse, mental health and family violence and are potentially at risk of becoming involved with the Child Protection system or are already involved with child protection.

This role has been created to increase Uniting's capacity to provide family services responses to families impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. It has been established according to guidelines set out in the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Family Services COVID-19 Response plan. The role is based with existing placement prevention and reunification programs as follows:

Stronger Families provides intensive placement prevention and reunification support for children and young people aged 0-17 years. The service provides an initial assessment and up to 12 months intensive case work including access to specialist partner services for early years, adolescent support and therapeutic service.

Families First provides short term, intensive support for 4 or 6 weeks with families who are involved with Child Protection where there is a risk of children/young people being placed in care and when children or young people are being reunited with their parents after removal by Child Protection. Workers complete a comprehensive child and family report that is provided to Child Protection.

Youth Counselling and Youth Support and Advocacy programs provide support and case work for vulnerable young people aged 12-17 years who have had involvement with Child Protection or are at risk of doing so.
