About Uniting

Uniting works alongside people of all ages in local communities in Victoria and Tasmania. Our services reach to Albury-Wodonga in the north, Mallacoota in East Gippsland, the Wimmera region in the west, and across Tasmania.

Uniting is the community services organisation of the Uniting Church. We've been supporting people and families for over 100 years. We are 7000 skilled, passionate and creative people providing over 770 programs and services.

We empower children, young people and families to learn and thrive. We're there for people experiencing homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction or mental illness. We support people with disability to live the life they choose. We assist older people to maintain their independence and enjoy life. We provide opportunities to access training and meaningful employment. We're proud to welcome and support asylum seekers to our community. We work to empower people with the information, skills and tools they need to live a healthy, happy life.

As an organisation, we celebrate our diversity and welcome all people regardless of ethnicity, faith, age, disability, culture, language, gender identity or sexual orientation. We acknowledge Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders as Australia's First Peoples and as the traditional owners and custodians of the land on which we work. We welcome lesbian, gay, trans, gender diverse and intersex (LGBTIQ) people at our services. We pledge to provide inclusive and non-discriminatory services.

Our purpose: To inspire people, enliven communities and confront injustice

Our values: We are imaginative, respectful, compassionate and bold

Program information

Uniting provide Integrated Family Services from two locations in the Eastern Region, Croydon and Blackburn. The Integrated Family Services program is aimed at supporting families who are experiencing difficulties that impact on parenting and family life. Working in partnership with alliance partners across the municipalities of Monash, Whitehorse, Manningham, Boroondara, Maroondah, Knox and Yarra Ranges, and in close partnership with a range of other agencies including VACCA and Child Protection, the IFS program provides a range of supports to increase the life opportunities for children, young people and families who are in most need.

Position purpose

This position is requiring a motivated practitioner to work creatively within the Inner East Family Services program. The successful candidate's responsibilities will range from providing support to a family via a case management service delivery model and/or assist in responding to workflow demands by providing innovative and targeted shorter term support interventions. This position will allow for significant professional growth through challenging and adaptive, fast paced practice.

The key objectives of this position are the provision of a high quality service designed to meet the needs of families while ensuring the safety and wellbeing of their children. This is achieved by:

- Providing outreach services to families that are flexible and creative to meet the needs of children, young people and their families
- Proactively intervening and working from an integrated approach with other services to ensure positive outcomes for children, young people and families
